

Coming Up Soon

National Day of Prayer For African American and African Family 2015

It's that time again for us to come together for a National Family Reunion... A National Day of Prayer for African American and African Family 2015! All the "signs of the time" point to the necessity of a "family coming together, a family time of prayer." So much seems to happen to us when we are apart from each other.

We get so caught up with "the everyday challenges and trying to make it every day" that we forget about the strength we gain from each other when we "tighten up in prayer and touch each other's lives for more than a minute." Let's show some love for we need some face time with each other. Let's take a new "Family Photo" so that a legacy of hope, faith and courage can be left for those who come after us. On Sunday, February 2, 2015, the first Sunday of Black History Month, let us put out an APB ...All Points Bulletin throughout the United States that we are having a national Family Reunion... A National Day of Prayer for African American and African Family 2015! It's about us, helping us, praying for us and celebrating the many times that God "caught us and kept us".
